benefit, under the Indian Bank Employees' Voluntary Retirement Scheme, 2000.

In the application seeking withdrawal of the writ petition, the petitioner states that he is aged 57 years, on the verge of retirement in the normal course and therefore does not wish to pursue the writ petition. He however seeks liberty to pursue appropriate remedies in the event of any further grievance with the respondent-Management.

In view of the above averments in the application, Writ Petition is dismissed as withdrawn. Petitioner is however at liberty to pursue appropriate remedies, if aggrieved with any action of the respondent-Management. No costs.
